

Shout Out Out Out Out show was wild, wild, wild, wild

Written by Richard Amery

Tuesday, 15 September 2009 16:15 - Last Updated Tuesday, 15 September 2009 16:27

I caught the end of an energetic and sold out performance at Henotic from the Shagbots and Edmonton based dance/disco/electronic band the Shout Out Out Out Outs, Sept. 12

A packed house swarmed before an extended stage which featured two drummers playing on risers set in the windows of the old firehall. A bank of synths braced the front of the stage. One of the members thanked all of his family for showing up and promised they'd be back soon

I was impressed with the triple bass attack near the end of the set, the bassists thumping through a wall of bleeps, bloops and assorted keyboard sounds. It was fast paced and energetic and surprisingly almost done by midnight by the time I arrived, but the audience was well into the music and enjoying themselves to no end.

— By Richard Amery, L.A. Beat editor