

Guerrista plays laid back grunge tinged blues

Written by Richard Amery

Thursday, 15 July 2010 08:21 - Last Updated Thursday, 15 July 2010 08:42

The Slice was packed, July 10 for Vancouver based grunge blues band Guerrista, which features former members of the Vespas, Pat Thom and Chris Henderson.

Their first set featured a slower, more laid back yet heavier distorted grungy sound, which had more in common with the Pack AD than Muddy Waters.

Lead vocalist Lyndsay Johnston has some impressive pipes which had a big jazz influence. They added a cover of AC DC's 'Ride On,' which Johnston sung well.

— By Richard Amery, L.A. Beat Editor

{jcomments on}